DO YOU KNOW THAT YOU'RE INFESTUOUS?

In a radio talk show recently Geneva Kirk Brooks, a spokesperson for Citizens Against Pornography and the Committee on Community Standards, remarked that Montrose is "infested with perverts" and that the city should take some action to clean out the area. Brooks would like to feel as proud of Montrose as she is of Spring Branch and Sharpstown.

CARTER AND VAN OOTEGHEM?

As co-chairperson of both the Nat'l Gay Task Force (New York City) and the Gay Rights National Lobby (Washington, D.C.) Gary Van Oteghem (of Houston's Gay Political Caucus) has written President-Elect Carter requesting a meeting. He has suggested discussing what role Mr.

Carter might play in helping gay Americans, and especially the impact of an executive order banning discrimination based on affectional or sexual preference. When this meeting is set up, Mr Van Oteghem will be representing an estimated 20 million gay Americans, including 200,000 gay Houstonians.

COUNTRY WESTERN NIGHT

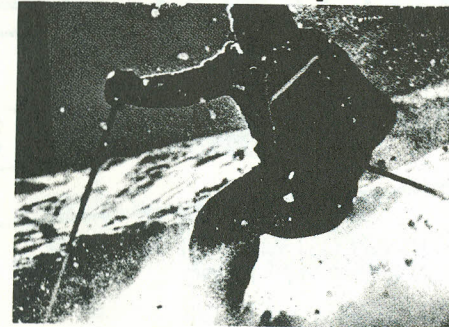

Austin's Private Cellar has gone country western every Saturday night in the back corral. That means if you're wearing a western hat, drinks are only 95c and beer 50c. And, the juke box has gone country too.

New Years eve at the Private Cellar will include horns, hats, confetti and much gaiety. Happy '77 from George and the gang at the Private Cellar in Austin!

AUSTIN COUNTRY 1977

It's a super New Years Eve Party this year at Austin Country as the disco will open from 8pm til 4am with after hours, free champagne at midnight, breakfast at 2am, costume ball and dance contest plus a Mr. and Ms. New Year contest based on best costume.

From 10 to 10:45 it'll be "oldies but goodies" with door prizes, tickets to "A Star is Born", free bottles of Locker Room and champagne. No reserved seating. Happy New Year from Bunch, Keith, Mike, Barbara, Jerry and the whole hill country gang at "the country."

THE FRONT COVER

As the new year begins, TWT would like to thank its many readers and advertisers for their continued overwhelming support throughout the past year, a year that has seen TWT increase in both size and circulation.

Many people often wonder how you get on the front cover of TWT. It's not for sale. We simply invite you to submit 8 X 10 black and white prints which are selected at our editors discretion. So, if you know a hunky number, send the black and white photo to 1110 Lovett, Suite 206, Houston, Texas 77006.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Merci and all the Friends and Lovers at 222 East 6th in Austin invite you by this New Years Eve to ring out the old and ring in the new in typical Art Deco style as the ceiling of Friends and Lovers will be filled with balloons and the disco filled with booze and champagne.

POLICE RAID AFTER HOURS PARTY

In the early morning hours of Friday, December 17, police and vice officers raided an after hours party for the "Together" cast at Houston's Levi's. About 40 persons were arrested for serving and consuming liquor after hours. Bob Fournier, general manager of the Old Plantation and one of the persons present at the raid, told TWT that there was a clear violation of strictly enforced liquor laws. However, TWT wonders if the raid can be considered completely coincidental in light of the recent activities and statements of the Committee on Community Standards.

LIBRARY REBUFFS CAP

Several week ago the Citizens Against Pornography complained to the Houston Public Library that the books Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex and The Joy of Sex are obscene and pornographic. The library submitted the books to a review board who completed their review process Tuesday, December 21. The board reported that it had found nothing objectionable about the books and that it had received numerous letters and phone calls opposing the right of CPA to dictate what individuals can or cannot read.

"Lord, what a party!" Vera exclaimed, collapsing onto Burt's under-stuffed sofa. "I thought it would never end. I shared my last four drinks with the potted palm. Good for the roots, you know."

"I thought the last of the guests would never leave." Burt sighed.

"I'm not sure they have, honey. I think two or three of them are still camped out in your bedroom."

"No, they left. Phoebe kept interrupting them. Looking for everybody's left over hors d'oeuvres. I don't think there's a paper plate with anything left on it in the house."

"Phoebe! Where is Phoebe?" Vera probed.

"He's in the kitchen doing the dishes. His last chance to be sure he didn't miss anything."

"Phoebe! Girl!" Vera yelled. "Get yourself in here. Chat time."

"I'm hungry." Phoebe moaned, schlepping into the living room, toting the remains of a barbecued chicken.

"Oh come, dear," Vera chided, "surely you must be full by now. Your mouth has been running all night. And you haven't spoken one word. What is that you're eating?"

"The last of the chicken," Phoebe muttered, through greasy lips.

"Chicken? We had ham tonight."

"I know. This is my emergency bird. I keep it in the trunk of the car."

"But child, you'll never burn off all those calories!" Vera warned.

"I know. So why worry about it." Phoebe explained, dejected.

"Not to worry, I suppose. It is the holiday season. You're entitled. Here. Want the rest of my cheesecake?" Vera offered.

"More than you know!" Phoebe squealed.

"You'll have to get another fork, though. I misplaced mine somewhere between the opening of the presents and the lighting of the fireplace." Vera said.

"No trouble," Phoebe advised, reaching into his back pocket. "I always carry a place-setting on me, for times like this. And for when I'm in the grocery store and can't wait to get home."

"And you've been unusually quiet tonight, too, Burt. Hasn't the Christmas spirit grabbed you yet?"

"No, I guess not. I don't know what's wrong. Just can't seem to get into the holiday mood."

"Well you better put some wheels on it. It's 11:30. Just 30 more minutes and the great day will be upon us. Christmas day!" Vera shrieked.

"Big deal. The 25th of the month. Big deal." Burt smirked.

"Snap out of it! What's wrong. I knew you were surprised when I had this party at your house. But I didn't know it would upset you this much. And I'll pay to have your carpet cleaned. Can I help it if spray paint comes in a can the same size and color as Silly String!"

"Oh, that's not it," Burt muttered, "I just don't feel very festive."

"I know how you feel, Burt." Phoebe offered. "Tomorrow the U-Totem takes the egg nog mix off the shelves until next year. For the next 11 months I won't have anything to wash my fried pies down with except Half & Half."

"Why don't you just stock up?" Burt asked. "Go out tonight and buy all they have. And freeze it."

"I would, but I can't afford it. I'm in hock up to my ears." Phoebe said.

"C'mon, Burt. You can't keep secrets from me. What's troubling you?" Vera probed.

"Nothing. I'm just tired."

"Don't give me that! You're the least tired person I know. Next to myself, of course."

"Nothing's wrong!"

"My present! That's what it is! You didn't like the present I got you."

"No! I loved it. I'm sure I'm the only kid on the block with a home-made Electrolux bike-peddled Accu-Jack."

"The tree, then. You didn't like the way I decorated the tree."

"It was fine." Burt moaned.

"I suppose. But I heard some of the guests whispering about 'the tackey tree with feathers.' There's so little appreciation of boas these days."

"I said the tree was fine." Burt injected. "And I meant it!"

"Well don't get huffy, honey." Vera withdrew. "But I can tell by your anger -- something is bugging you. Now you come and sit right over here and tell Vera all about it."

"There is nothing to tell."

"Burt! This is Vera you're talking to. See all, hear all, know all. Spill the beans, kid. Or I'll crack your pot!"

"I don't want to talk about it." Burt groaned.

"I'll give you to the count of three. If you don't tell me then I'll... I'll... I'll be put in the unfortunate position of having to claw out your eyes."

"I don't want to talk about it." "One! My fingernails are getting longer."

"I don't want to talk about it." "Two! And you know how hard it is to get a good seeing-eye dog."

"I don't want to talk about it." "Two and a half. White canes are not in style!"

"Okay! Okay! Hell, I'll tell you." Burt grunted, knowing the wrath of Vera.

"Gooooood!" Vera screamed. "Now you start yakking and I'll get my ears all puckered into the 'dirt' position."

The phone rang.

"Damn!" Vera bellowed. "Ma Bell fucks me over again."

Burt went into the bedroom to answer the phone. Vera asked Phoebe to fix him a drink, since Burt's dirt was evidently going to be the hard-packed, large-load variety. Following what seemed to Vera an eternity, Burt emerged into the living room.

"Tis the season to be jolly. Fa-la-la, fa-la-la, la-la-la! JOY TO THE WORLD" Burt sang at the top of his voice.

"Look at that, Phoebe. He's happy! Must have been some really good news, huh, Burt?" Vera probed, chomping at the bit. "Or else his phone is the new Laughing Gas model."

"I don't know where to begin." Burt said, grinning beyond those points to where ears are attached.

"Just spit it out! Vera exclaimed.

"It's so wonderful!"

"What! What!" Vera yelled, chewing on his paper cup.

"It all began four months ago..."

Burt began.

"I can't wait to hear all that! Move to the end of the story! What's the bottom line?"

"I now have a LOVER!"

For the first time in his life, a person in a room fainted and Vera didn't see it. Vera was it!

PREDICTIONS 1977

Last week in OCCULT you read a partial list of predictions on the coming year 1977 as received by Texas psychic Grethe. The messages were received in trance. As explained in her new book, "Psychic Meditation," everyone has the power to communicate with the universal intelligence, to go into trance, to experience astral projection, or meditate. One prediction to be noted at the outset is that more gays will become more aware of their psychic abilities in the coming year.

In a special message for Gays, the oracle says:

Gay rights legislation in the state of Texas will not pass the first time it comes to vote.

There will be more harassment of gays by police as a result of local citizen groups who will bring pressure on city hall so that the word will be given to police to make it uncomfortable for us.

Bars will once again become smaller, more private and more contained.

The true way to further the gay cause will be to not make public issue out of something strictly private and personal. But, since it has become an issue with the straight community, we should just refuse to discuss it.

Then, Grethe looked forward to the year 2000 for these prophecies:

Parts of California will disappear into the sea (Los Angeles and San Francisco).

The city of New York will be destroyed by a tidal wave that will build in the Atlantic Ocean and be ignored until it is too late.

The Texas Coast will gradually subside further inland some 50 miles, causing much of the present development along the coast to go under.

The Supreme Court will be abolished in a blaze of untruths.

World War III will erupt in the early 80's. China will first have a civil war. Then, China will fight Russia and the USA will help Mother Russia as we did in World War II.

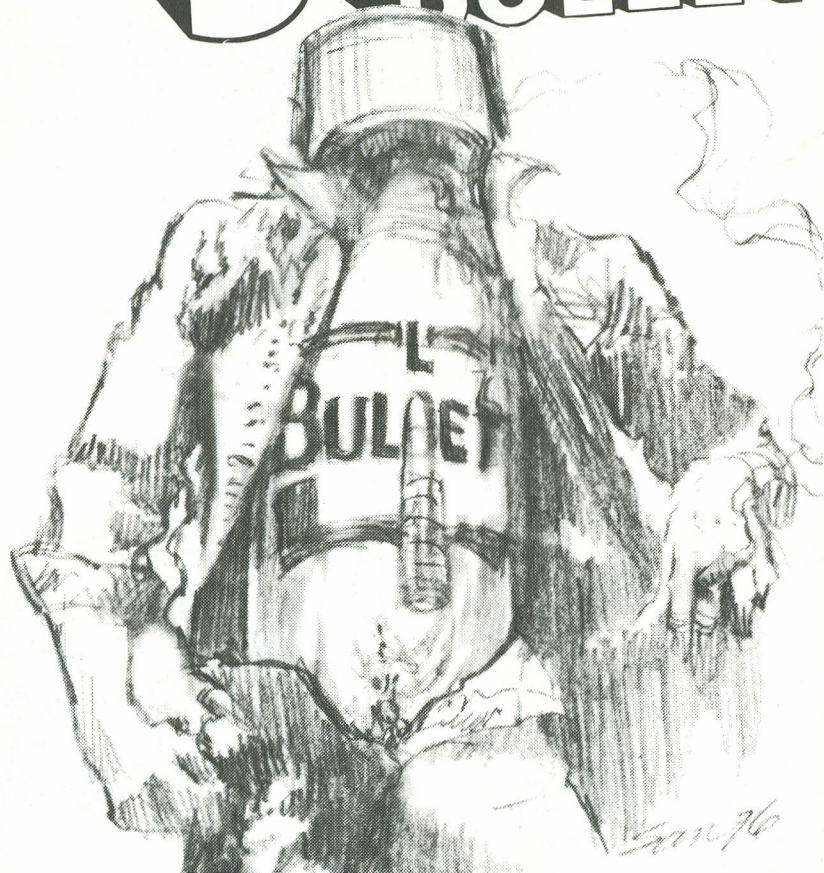

Traditional church forms are doomed. The first to be destroyed will be the Roman Catholic Church as the church will be burned to the ground and the Pope assassinated before the year 2000. When this happens, men in church after church will be killed.

Grethe has other predictions about the future which have been received from her "source" and more will be printed from time to time in Occult.

If you have questions which you would like Grethe to answer in trance, write Occult, 1110 Lovett, Suite 206 Houston, Texas 77006 in care of This Week In Texas. Happy 1977!

HOUSTON AS A TIME BOMB WITH A FUSE?

A small, but politically powerful group, is attempting to erase the individual rights of Houston's largest minority. The Committee on Community Standards is following the whims of a fanatic right winger, whose ideals in government smack of Hitler's Nazism. Their objective is to destroy the life style of the Gay Community. Their weapons are old and outmoded laws that can and will label every homosexual citizen of our city a common criminal.

Perhaps it is time for us to let our elected officials know that we do not intend to sit idly by and let the rights we have so dearly earned be dissolved by a sick individual, or group, using the Bible as a shield.

Perhaps it is time for the Mayor to repay the political debt he still owes our community. Perhaps it is time to remind him it was the votes of the Gay precincts that elected him Mayor of this nation's 5th largest city.

Now is not the time to clean out the closet. It is the time to stand up and be counted. A unified Gay society with 200,000 votes can make or break any politician in Houston, and they are all well aware of this fact.

"Together" we can and will be heard.

"Together" we must let it be known that it will be political suicide to stomp the tail of a sleeping tiger. Think about it.

Manager of Levi's

GPC'S POLICY STATEMENT IN RESPONSE TO RAID ON LEVI'S

In the early hours Friday, December 17, 1976, Levi's was raided. Around fifty people were arrested for drinking after hours. They were booked, jailed and bonded out. Later that day, GPC was called and asked to investigate the raid. GPC would like to use this space to make a preliminary report as to what our investigation has revealed and what role the community can expect GPC to play in similar circumstances in the future.

As soon as we heard about the arrests, we began to gather information. We first had to determine whether or not the arrests were for violations of laws which are applied equally regardless of whether the violators are gay or non-gay. A bar manager who was arrested in the raid and who generously posted bond for all those arrested, informed us that there was a clear violation of a strictly enforced ordinance dealing with serving and consuming drinks after hours. Our next question was whether it was harassment to arrest those persons who were consuming alcohol after hours as well as those serving the drinks. We have not completed this phase of the investigation, but it appears that such arrests are general practice in after hours raids.

In cases where there are arrests for violations of laws which are enforced equally against all persons regardless of sexual or affectional preference, it is GPC policy not to become involved in litigating the constitutionality of those laws or their enforcement. That is not to say that the Gay Political Caucus is not concerned about these problems, but it is a recognition that we have limited resources and that there are groups better equipped to deal with these problems. For example, we are working hard at establishing a significant gay presence in the local chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union (you will be hearing more about this project in the near future). The ACLU deals with such problems on a regular basis and has greater legal resources at its disposal.

There is a second aspect to any arrest which GPC investigates in order to determine whether or not it should take action in a particular situation. That aspect deals with the treatment of the person arrested. Even when being arrested, a person deserves respect and humane treatment. A police officer has no justification for using violence or abusive language against a non-resisting person. That type of harassment is difficult to prove, but GPC nonetheless considers it our duty to act when a pattern of harassment is found to exist. To prove such a case, we must have firm documentation to take to the appropriate authorities. We need the help of persons who have been the victims of harassment in order to effectively deal with this problem.

If you feel that you were the victim of harassment during the raid on Levi's, please give us the following written information: your name, the name or badge number of the officer who harassed you (if you have them), exactly what happened, and how we can reach you. If faced with similar situations in the future, remain calm, observe as many details as you can, write down all the information that you can recall and send it to us as soon as possible.

GPC is working to insure equal treatment under the law for all persons regardless of sexual or affectional preference. In order to deal with police harassment effectively, we need your information, your support and your patience. It is a problem which has been with us far too long, and we are working as best we can to minimize if not eliminate it.
